Individual reports

Do Xuan Bach

During this week I've started into the development of the back end system, installing Drupal cores and in the process of getting MySQL ready for database manipulations. From now to reading week the plan is to get SQL backend ready on the development machine.

Andrei Mircea Boscor

These past two weeks I created and delivered the Elevator Pitch. Furthermore I assigned tasks more evenly and have begun work on fixing the CSS issues in the app such as menus, portrait orientation lock, resizing on different screens, etc. I also presented our plans for this term as well as our current progress to our client.
